WEICON

TO THE MEMORY OF CONRAD WEISER
PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
CONRAD WEISER HIGH SCHOOL
ROBESONIA, PENNSYLVANIA

FOREWORD

This year the objective of our book is to highlight "OUR HERITAGE FROM CONRAD WEISER" which so many of us take for granted. Conrad Weiser was the foremost Pennsylvania German of his day and the strongest influence for peace between the Indians and the white men in all the English colonies. It is a challenge for all of us to live up to his good name and standards.

Born in Wurttemburg in 1696, Weiser came to New York with his father as a youth and spent several months as an adopted son of Quayant, a Mohawk chief in the Schoharie Valley. Coming to Pennsylvania in 1729 with his wife, he settled here below Eagle Peak in the Tulpehocken Valley. The next thirty-one years until his death in 1760 were busy indeed for this talented man, who was a farmer and a tanner, a founder of Reading and first president judge of Berks County, a monk at Ephrata Cloister and a pillar of the Lutheran Church, a lieutenant colonel in the French and Indian War and the grandfather of the famous John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg, general in the American Revolution.

In addition to our school district as a whole, our yearbook is also named in honor of Conrad Weiser. Weicon has been formed by the first three letters of Weiser followed by the first three letters of Conrad. This name was originated by the 1940 senior class at Womelsdorf. Mr. William Burkhardt, now teaching at Reading High, was the English teacher and advisor. When the area jointure was formed in 1954, Weicon was chosen by a vote of the student body as the name for the yearbook. It was made official by the school board that year and so became one of the school traditions.

To carry out our theme this year, we have placed colored pictures of Weiser's homestead in the front and back of the book. The pictures on most of the divider pages were taken inside his house located in Conrad Weiser Memorial Park, Womelsdorf.

MR. WALTER A. ROHRBACH
SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

To the Seniors:

It is very appropriate that a senior class of the high school bearing his name should choose as their yearbook theme "Our Heritage from Conrad Weiser." Since school annuals become a part of the permanent records and the history of our school, this yearbook should serve as a reminder to future students of the grand inheritance which is theirs.

When we think of our heritage, we are, in plain language, reminding ourselves about what others who have lived before us have provided for our culture and use. President George Washington when standing at the grave in what is now Weiser Park said, "Posterity cannot forget his services." What is the heritage left by the illustrious Conrad Weiser that inspired these words?

History tells us this great man was a judge, an Indian-interpreter, a peacemaker, a treatymaker, and a provincial agent. What qualities must a man have to be successful in such ventures? One answer would have to be PERSONAL INTEGRITY AND A REPUTATION OF FAIR DEALING WITH EVERY ONE. We will continue to live in one of the finest communities we know if every graduate of the Conrad Weiser Area High School will weave this heritage into his own life.

Sincerely,

Walter A. Rohrbach

ADMINISTRATION & CURRICULUM

The true aim of every one who aspires to be a teacher should be, not to impart his own opinions, but to kindle minds.
-- F. W. Robertson

Dr. Willar, High School Principal, discusses yearbook transaction with Jane Master.

Our schools were named in honor of Conrad Weiser which indicates that this community felt that he did a lot for it. Naming our district after him was a way of showing appreciation. It would be well for all of us to review our history and refresh our memories as to our heritage. That was the purpose of the yearbook staff in selecting this topic. Many reasons for greatness will be found depending on one's background. Due to lack of space we shall dwell on only one point here and emphasize it. Conrad Weiser was a great interpreter to the Indians. This required not only translation of language but explaining the intent of one's words or actions so as to remove distrust. Usually when one understands other people we find them to be honorable people. With wars and rumors of wars being afloat in the world and atomic energy at our disposal we need men and women who can interpret actions tending to promote peace. The class of 1965 is asked to accept this challenge and do its part. Good Luck.

In his book, CONRAD WEISER -- PENNSYLVANIA PEACEMAKER, Dr. Arthur D. Graeff presents the text of an address made by Weiser in 1741 when the small colony of Pa. was experiencing many internal difficulties. Weiser ended this appeal for support with these words. ". . . And that you may be directed by wisdom in your choice and that peace, love, truth, and goodwill amongst men prevail is the hearty prayer of your friend Conrad Weiser."

Perhaps in this single sentence Conrad Weiser has given us the keys for living throughout all our lifetime. Look at his choice of words -- wisdom, peace, love, truth, goodwill and prayer. As you approach the adult phase of life it would be my earnest hope that in making daily decisions, in your relationships with others, and in the guidance of your children, all actions and words be tempered in the fire of these convictions spoken so many years ago by Conrad Weiser.

Mr. Dinger, Assistant High School Principal; and J. Hartranft look over sales records and publicity suggestions.

Mr. Stoltzfus, Elementary School Principal, records activities occurring in the elementary school system.

Your Heritage has created a way of living which conserves and produces as many values as possible
over as long a time as possible
Old structures pass
All things change
To look to the meaning of civilization and culture
that lie behind
To gather the essence of past contributions
into a new integration
shaped to modern social needs is your task.
Best wishes to the Class of 1965.

ENGLISH IS STRESSED IN ALL GRADES

The English teachers are Mrs. Winter, Miss Flickinger, Mr. Shaner, and Mr. Gruber.

THREE PHASE ENGLISH COURSE BEGINS AT C.W.

The twelfth grade listens to Mr. Shaner reading from Chaucer's CANTERBURY TALES, one of the many famous works studied in his literature class.

The senior high English department has taken another step in improving its program.

The college bound eleventh and twelfth grade students spend time with each of three teachers. Mr. Gruber teaches grammar; Mrs. Winter, creative writing; and Mr. Shaner, literature. Each teacher then gives these pupils intensive training in his own specific area.

Darryl Werner points out to Donna Matthew and David Lutz the location of the homes of English writers. English literature is part of the senior English course

Jr. High Social Studies teachers are:
Mr. R. Klingler, geography; Mr. E.
Himmelberger, history; Mr. T
Golden, history; Mr. F. Friedman, geography

HISTORY

From Past to Present

Eighth grade students review current events and keep up to date on world happenings in Mr. Himmelberger's history class.

Mr. Klingler points out significant geographical locations to R. Lutz, S. Zimmerman, and C. Zimmerman.

Sr. High history teachers: Mr. D. Seltzer, P. C. D., Mrs. I. Suhr, American history; Mr. G. Jones, world culture; Mr. W. Seifarth, civics.

SENIOR HIGH MATH

Plays a Continually Increasing Role in This Age of Scientific Advancement

"Analytic geometry can be fun," as Mr. Hess demonstrates to Franklin Sheare.

Jay Miller and Jack Gaston show the class the reasoning behind a math problem

"It's not as complicated as it looks." Mr. Lutz illustrates the use of the slide rule to Barry Henderson and James Grimes.

"Consumer math isn't all work." This peach experiment proves to be quite beneficial and tasty, too! Mr. Lutz, left, and Mr. Hess instruct Dennis Reber

The science teachers are Mr. Gosch, physics; Mr. Schofer, science; Mr. Breininger, biology; Mr. Hardy, chemistry; and Mr. McComsey, science

'Now here is quite an interesting specimen,' says Mr. Breininger. Looking on are John Backenstose, John Deem, Brian Wingenroth, and Martin Moan.

W. Long, J. Cox, D. Kissling, and K. Kapp all agree. "It's a very interesting specimen of rock." The rock is called Geode, a type crystal. It was acquired by Mr. Breininger near Penn State, Pa. It is part of his large personal collection. The students find it very fascinating.

Art Classes Explore Ceramics

Art is compulsory in grades 7 and 8. Later a student may choose to participate in the Art Curriculum, a program of 6 periods a week. In this advanced course the artist progresses at his own speed. Ceramics and three dimensional work is stressed in grade 10. This phase is very popular with the "art set." Pictured here are some of the interesting procedures of clay work. Original creative pieces are stressed by the instructor.

Mr. Thomas Alexander, instructor.

Shown above is an original drawing by [student] and a brief, unfired piece of the final work. The finished 5 ft. mural of ceramic work will be placed on the wall at the rear of our auditorium. It is part of Mr. Alexander's master degree requirements. See Conrad Weller's report on a how-to book.

Linda Lehman and Mr. Alexander examine some fired clay stacked in a large kiln.

Linda carefully cleans a poured clay piece to prepare it for firing.

W. Boltz, D. Wartluft, L. Lehman, curriculum students, prepare the design for a ceramic pour. A plaster mold will then be made.

Wartluft is "slip pouring." The clay is in thick liquid form. It will set for about 20 minutes

Clay is poured back into its container. Clay sticks to the plaster and becomes the object. It is now removed from the mold.

After firing in the kiln (1900 degrees) it is hardened. Underglaze decoration is applied

Students examine some finished pieces. They are stylized animals, highly glazed.

The finished product is artful, and highly prized by the students.

Creative Construction Stressed in Junior High Shop Courses.

It's a challenge to the ninth grade girls' creativeness and imagination to produce dresses that are all different even though they originate from the same pattern. This type of clothing construction gives the teacher an opportunity to demonstrate to the class step by step all the basic fundamentals necessary in the making of a dress.

Using various types of materials to make skirts and blouses appear different helps the seventh and eighth grade girls to develop originality in their ideas. The girls enjoy wearing the clothes they make.

After the sewing project is finished, the seventh grade girls will have units in baby-sitting and breakfast foods. The eighth grade girls will have units in good grooming and luncheon foods, and the ninth grade girls will have units in interior decorating and dinner foods.

This group will run a basketball tournament on February 25, featuring the winning teams from the girls' gym classes. Miss Unger also plans to have a tournament in volleyball at the end of that unit. This spring the senior girls will play badminton and golf and shoot archery. The boys have spent much of their time wrestling this winter.

CLASS MOTTO "Knowledge Is the Eternal Power of Success"

CLASS COLORS: Forest Green and Winter White

CLASS FLOWER: White Tea Rose

The teas and hybrid teas are so named because their flowers often smell like tea or fruit. They come in many different colors, but never in blue. The white tea rose has petals resistant to rain and wind. Its exquisite white flowers give an air of sharpness and cleanliness in the garden or for arrangements in the house. In addition to its pure white color, this variety has another distinction of great importance. Floribunda blood has been infused into this strain in order to improve its vigor and hardiness. The result is a variety that will out-perform most other Hybrid Teas.

Jessica Hartranft

The development of this yearbook started during the beginning of last summer when five staff members, along with Mr. Gibson and Dr. Willar, visited the publishing plant in Cambridge, Maryland. Here members were shown how thousands of yearbooks similar to this one were produced on an assembly line basis. Four deadlines were established. All were met on time. The staff deserves credit for a job well done.

MR. DINGER, BUSINESS ADVISOR, INSTRUCTS THE GROUP IN SALESMANSHIP

IN APPRECIATION

We, the class of 1965, do hereby dedicate this yearbook to Mr. J. Robert Gibson for his 25 years of faithful service to the Weicon.

Mr. Gibson came to our area in 1940 as an athletic director and art teacher at the Womelsdorf school. He was also the art advisor to the yearbook staff in that year. In the past quarter of a century, he has given much of his time and efforts to various civic organizations. Among the many posts he has filled are Scoutmaster of troop 157 Womelsdorf, water front director at Camp Shikellamy, Sunday School Superintendent and consistory member of Zion U. C. C., member of Womelsdorf borough council, and director of the Womelsdorf summer playground.

To those who have worked with him it has been a pleasure. For one rarely finds a man so dedicated and sincere in all of his endeavors.

The F.F.A. boys give Weiser's landscape a face-lifting

Mr. Dinger plows his way through the plastic jungle

The Weiser faculty—in character—enacts a typical melodrama for Weiser's follies.

The 11th grade Industrial Arts Class observes the pouring of a sand mold at Aluminum Alloy Plant Sinking Spring

Mr. Anthony explains to Marty Hartranft a blue print being shown by the plant's superintendent.

A CANDID GLIMPSE OF LIFE AT WEISER

The students at Weiser are very friendly - just ask Marcia Ellsworth, Dave Fink, and Susan Eshbach.

Faculty members are returning for another year of teaching faculty are Mrs. S. Lippert, Mr. J. H. Gandy, and Mr. R. Wagner.

Mr. Crispin, a Womelsdorf Optimist is photographing Weiser's four representatives who went to York's Old Forge. Jim Grimes, Jane Master, Anna Nagle, and Rick Wagner.

Chemistry can be enjoyable with Mr. Hardy.

Students - beatniks at Weiser - T.J. Ranellone and C. Wagner getting ready for the play.

THE YOUNGER SET

Players listen intently to Coach Hartranft's half-time pep talk.

Coach Weiser's second team will be in most of the games this year. STANDING: S. V. K. and C. W., R. T. L., J. S. C., L. G. and D. F.; SITTING: P. Hertzog, G. Yiengst, D. Weins, J. Adams, J. Grimes, B. Werner, L. Hoffa, D. Frantz, J. Mardaga, J. Keese, and J. Christensen. All four coaches are available.

No, it's not time for all Sunnys to just loosen up before a game.

Plenty of action is in store at Long Beach. J. Rabold scores for Weiser, assisted by D. Frantz.

Greg Yiengst prepares for an offensive kick while his team gives him strong support.

SCOUT HARRIERS GIVE IT THEIR BEST

In our initial year of cross country running, Captain Sterling Snyder led our Scouts to fourth place in the league.

The high point of the season was defeating Exeter by a narrow margin. Exeter later became State "B" Champs.

To conclude the season, Captain Sterling Snyder earned a third place medal in the conference meet at Governor Mifflin.

The team will lose five members at graduation. The members are Sterling Snyder, Randy Bricker, Robert Preston, Oliver Wentzel, and Dennis Beidler.

The top winners of the season are: Sterling Snyder, Randy Bricker, Paul Gartner, Larry Benevit, and Ron Hess.

On the mark, get set!

Go!

Hockey – A Challenging and Rewarding Sport:

SENIORS on the hockey team are as follows: D. Loomis, K. Corl, L. Bailey, C. Bodanza, D. Matthew, L. Ressler, L. Porter, and M. Krott.

Strategy and Determination Make a Winning Team

The girls are on the alert and ready to go.

The players patiently wait for someone to gain custody of the ball.

Strategy counts in playing a good game. Here we see Miss Unger explaining some tricky maneuvers to the team.

D. Loonis steals the ball from C. W.'s opponent as the rest of the team runs to help her.

C. Bouanza (4) and M. Krett (12) close in for the winning point.

WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPS

S. Burkhart shoots one from the left side in the Muhlenberg game to add two more points towards the eventual victory.

Big Jim Murdough drops another one in, displaying the form which brought C. W. the Western Division champion. —

Pandemonium reigns as M. Hartranft's foul shot swishes through the net after the buzzer.

The final score in the C. W. Hamburg game shows Weiser won by one point, thanks to M. Hartranft's free throw after the buzzer.

J. Murdough jumps for Weiser at the beginning of the fourth quarter of the Hamburg game. The scoreboard in the background shows the closeness of the entire game. Other C. W. players are C. Wentzel, R. Zager, M. Hartranft, and B. A. mt.

The Weiserettes finished first in the western Division. Their determination and hard work under the coaching of Miss Unger proved very rewarding as they moved to the top, beating some very tough teams.

A fighting spirit, much practice, and good instruction from Coach Enger add up to victory for our Weiserettes.

WEISERETTES ARE VICTORIOUS
